Everything I'm going to say today is the absolute truth, or |truth| as we math folk say. This is not for those who lack courage, you have been warmed.

So, hold on to your towels!

Are you holding on to your towels? Napkins are also fine.

Brief history

As we all know [OBM], the universe was created last Thursday.
But a mysterious being, an agent of chaos, has been known to exist at least since last Wednesday.

Murphy's law

Since the dawn of time, Murphy has derived pleasure from denying us good stuff:

Law (Murphy's Law)

If it can go wrogn, it will.

haha

We have all been victims of Murphy's law at some point or other.

Let's look at some examples.

The law in action

It has been concluded (ref. [NH]) by esteemed researchers all around the world that Murphy's law is responsible for

Secret recipe

From texts dating back to last Saturday, we uncovered a technique to evade Murphy's law. It detailed a sacrifice of some sort involving 1 hen, 2 sheep, 3 pigs, 4 cows and so on [M].

Luckily, we found a second text [???] claiming to have the technique and came with a warning that it would self destruct once seen by human eyes. Today, we are going to look at it for the first time and hope that someone takes a picture. Say tofu, i mean cheese

In retrospect, the "sacrifice" might have been a nursery book.

Regardless, no pigs were hammed.
